"The purpose, the aim and drive of these schools is to equip the child with the most excellent technological proficiency so that he may function with clarity and efficiency in the modern world, and, far more important, to create the right climate so that the child may develop fully as a complete human being. This means giving him the opportunity to flower in goodness so that he is rightly related to people, things and ideas, to the whole of life. (...) And it is a function of the educator not only to educate itself in his relationship with the student, but also to help the student have this extraordinarily creative mind, a mind that is timelessly learning».
